

Malibu Beach Inn

CARBON BEACH

*globalblackbook[®] we dare to share.

Malibu Beach Inn

“It’s a home away from home and I work here!”

Filed under: Travel

May 9, 2011

For those of you who may not know, Malibu is a wealthy beachfront community located in Los Angeles County. The city stretches 21 miles along Pacific Coast Highway, and at first glance may not look that special, mostly because you can't see anything as it's all blocked by expensive real estate on the ocean side of the street. Malibu is most famous for being home to many celebrities and movie stars, surfing and sandy beaches. In fact, it's the beaches that are most important. Of all of them, Carbon Beach is known as the most exclusive, and for having the most expensive real estate and wealthy residents. Malibu Beach Inn just happens to be here, too. When David Geffen bought it, gutted it, and spent a few million making it somewhere he would want to invite his friends to stay when he ran out of room at his own house down the street, we knew it would be okay for us to send our friends here, too.

California laid back luxury is what Malibu is all about, and if you're only visiting town for a few days, then there's nowhere better to get a taste of it than here. With 47 oceanfront rooms and suites, many with fireplaces, this is the place to kick back, relax, and enjoy being close to everything but far enough away not to care. Chef Zack Gochin does a great job in the restaurant and most days you will find many locals joining guests in the bar or on the deck enjoying the best of California cuisine. During the day relax on the beach with full service, enjoy a massage and some TLC in the cozy spa, and if you must exercise; how about a private yoga class on the beach? On the weekend things liven up with a DJ and most importantly, everyone who works here understands the meaning of the word "hospitality."

GBB Says: If you are looking to get away from home for a few days and spend some time on the beach, then leave the kids at home and the car with the valet at the front door, as you won't need it once you get here. If you're arriving at LAX from any international destination and need to chill out and regroup before moving on, then come and stay here for a couple of nights. It's only a 30 minute drive from the airport, and we speak from experience when we tell you that this is a far better way to get over jet lag than staying in Marina del Rey or "on the beach" in Santa Monica.

Malibu Beach Inn, Malibu CA United States www.malibubeachinn.com

<http://globalblackbook.com/?p=3784>